

The Warren Center Presents

Feeding Family and Community:
African American Women
Farmers and the Long
Fight for Environmental Justice in the Midwest, 1790-2021

Monday, April 19, 2021

3:45-5:45 PM (EST)

Zoom link

Moderator: Allison Puglisi (Harvard University)

Opening Remarks: sadada (embodied healing justice teacher, nipmc)

Roundtable: Christy Clark-Pujara (UW Madison), Anna-lisa Cox (Harvard University), Diane Miller (National Park Service), Barbara Norman (Farmer & Founder of S.M.A.R.T.), Shakara Tyler (Detroit Black Farmer Land Fund, Detroit Black Community Food Security Network), Monica White (UW Madison)

Presented in Collaboration with Harvard American Studies for Environmental History Week of the American Society for Environmental History